

Press Release

14.03.11

Soliton IT is pleased to announce Soliton Radiology+™.

Soliton Radiology+™ uses the latest technology from Microsoft to provide an enhanced user experience with highly efficient workflow, superb graphical statistics, dashboards and business/clinical management functions. The product is IHE compliant (DICOM, HL7, XDS), process based and includes patient self check-in, patient waiting area messaging, SMS/email and management functions. Also included is Soliton's advanced Workflow Management and the company's popular speech processing technology.

Compatible with all leading PACS, PAS and EPR providers.

The company will be showing the product at the UKRC conference in June this year and it will be available for commercial release in Q3/2011.

Making the announcement Bob Watson, Director said:

"We are pleased to announce Soliton Radiology+. The product is new and exciting and uses the very latest technology from Microsoft.

This technology allied to our substantial experience in the Radiology sector has enabled us to build a product which provides a rich user interface with modern functionality which meets the demands of current day business and clinical management within busy Radiology departments.

Soliton Radiology+ retains the robustness, reliability and interoperability of Soliton's Workflow Manager and includes our popular speech processing technology. In addition it provides superb graphics, dynamic activity displays, comprehensive business stats and of course traditional RIS functionality.

We have incorporated a wealth of new features which modern radiology departments need, such as SMS/emailing for patients and consultants, patient waiting displays, self check-in kiosk etc..

The product is process and workflow based providing users with a rich and easy to use interface, which not only improves usability but provides a more efficient service for the Hospital, which ultimately results in a better service for patients"
